NEW CORONA FACTORY WILL RISE FROM RUINS

TWELVE ENTRANTS IN REPRESENTATIVE RACE; TWO IN SENATE DERBY

Monday Was Last Day for Filing—Candidates Are Many.

An even dozen eighth district aspirants for representative seats at Springfield, nine Republicans and three Democrats, had petitions filed with the Secretary of State Louis L. Emmerson last Monday. Five of the Republican entries are Lake county candidates who seek the post of the late William F. Weiss.

Four Candidates from McHenry
McHenry county furnishes four entrants—Roy J. Stewart, the present incumbent, Chas. H. Francis, Wm. M. Carroll, Woodstock attorney, and Peter William Frett, mayor of McHenry.

Stewart has been sheriff and also treasurer of McHenry county. He has quite a following in his home county and also in Lake and Boone counties. Chas. H. Francis, bone dry candidate, is a former representative. It is said Francis can conduct a political campaign on less money than any man ever elected from the eighth district. When the dry issue falls perhaps Chas. H. will run on a "free silver" platform. Mr. Carroll is assistant state's attorney of McHenry county and is a world war veteran, who came near winning over Alfred H. Pouse for state's attorney at the last election. Candidate Frett, of Fox river dam fame, needs no introduction to the people of the western half of Lake county. N. L. Jackson of Belvidere, is Boone county's lone candidate. "Little Boone's" candidate always gets considerable help from McHenry and Lake counties. Owing to the large number of Republican candidates this spring Jackson's chances seem exceptionally bright. He is now serving his second term at Springfield.

Following are the candidates in the order their names will appear on the ballot April 10:

State Treasurer

Truman Johnson, Rockford; Edward E. Miller, East St. Louis.

Attorney General

John Bailey, Peoria; Charles W. Hadley, Wheaton.

Representative in Congress—State at Large

Ruth Hanna McCormick, Byron, Richard Yates, Springfield; W. H. R. Miller, Champaign; Charles R. Harris, Herrin.

Delegates to National Nominating Convention

Republican—Tenth District: Claire C. Edwards, Waukegan; Ashbel V. Smith, Waukegan.

Democratic—D. A. Moses, 923 Windsor avenue, Chicago; Joseph H. Donahue, 3642 N. Seeley avenue, Chicago.

Representatives in Congress

Republican—Tenth District: Carl R. Chindblom, 5418 N. Paulina st., Chicago. Samuel Beryl Wechsler, 7645 Sheridan road, Chicago.

Democratic—Joseph A. Weber, 2920 Southport avenue, Chicago.

Representative

Propose Tax Levy To Finance Library

The proposition for the establishment and maintenance of a free public library for Antioch will be placed before the voters of the village in a special election Thursday, March 15. To finance the project it is proposed to levy an annual tax of nine-tenths of one mill on the dollar. Polls will be open from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m. at the Village hall, March 15.

Says Newspapers and Utilities Miracles of Present-Day Life

The few cents you pay for a newspaper and the equivalent cheapness of public utility service are two amazing developments of modern life, pointed out by Donald M. Mackie, president of the Public Utilities Advertising Association, in a recent speech.

"It is a hardy soul who may dare to say that here you have other than your money's worth," Mackie said. "For in the newspaper not only are the activities of the world brought into the pages, but in the course of a year's subscription you get something of geography, of economics, philosophy, physiology, history, ethics and much of the mechanical, electrical and other sciences. This without considering the social or educational value of the paid advertising."

The smoothness and perfection of gathering and distributing news is paralleled only by the smoothness and perfection of the utility companies in making and distributing light, heat and power, he said. The holding companies which make it possible for the utility concerns in isolated sections to have skilled management and financial backing have a parallel in the press association and feature syndicates which give newspapers informative readable copy at a price which would be prohibitive to single newspapers, he added.

SMALL PROMISES ROUTE 173 IS TO BE BUILT IN 1928

Paving on Zion-Rockford Route Will Be Started This Summer.

Assurance that Route 173, Zion to Rockford, will be under construction this summer, were received from the office of Gov. Len Small.

The governor stated that the work of surveying the route between Caledonia and Harvard had been completed and that the work yet to be done lay in Lake county.

The road, in all probability, will swing west from a point at or near Zion and parallel the Illinois-Wisconsin line so as to serve Russell and Antioch, McHenry and Boone counties. This highway will then connect with the concrete strip between Beloit and Rockford.

Work of securing right-of-ways through Lake county is not under way as yet. Decision has not been reached, it is understood, as to the exact routing. A meeting was held several weeks ago at Zion at which time the residents of the district made their suggestions to the state highway department. The governor at that time stated that everything possible would be done to get the paving underway this summer.—Waukegan Sun.

All interested are cordially invited to attend.

Richmond School Proposition Loses

The proposition to build an addition to the Richmond public school building and of issuing bonds in the amount of $42,000 to pay for it lost by 71 votes at the special election held in that village a week ago.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Powles, Antioch, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Hunter, Rt. 1, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Minto, Rt. 2, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mau, Rt. 3, are invited to witness "The Girl From Rio" with Carmel Myers at the Crystal theatre Tuesday evening, February 28.

GOVERNOR SMALL SEEKS TO REMOVE STRATTON FROM SECRETARY RACE

Lake County Man Is Firm in Stand—Will Stick in Race.

Despite the efforts of Governor Len Small to get William J. Stratton to withdraw from the race for secretary of state, the Lake county man, Small appointee as head of the department of conservation, refuses to quit. Stratton is credited with the statement Wednesday that under no circumstances will he withdraw.

Small Supports Gentzel.

It is well known that the Small-Thompson crowd are throwing their support to Municipal Judge Gentzel of Chicago for secretary of state, and Stratton is said to have the backing of Emmerson, Lowden-Densen faction. Hal Trevillion, of Herrin, a member of the Illinois Commerce Commission appointed by Governor Small, started in the race several weeks ago and then last Saturday announced his withdrawal. However, last Monday one minute before midnight when the filing closed, the Herrin publisher filed his petitions, and it is generally believed the act was at the suggestion of Thompson and Small, as a threat to Stratton that he will lose many votes downstate if he remains in the race. A definite decision regarding the candidacy of Stratton and Trevillion is expected Friday, Saturday at midnight is the last moment for withdrawal. If both Stratton and Trevillion are forced out of the race, the remaining candidates will be Charles W. Vall, clerk of the state supreme court, State Senator Earl B. Searcy of Springfield, and Judge Robert Gentzel of Chicago. Senator Densen is said to be friendly to Vall, while Gentzel is the candidate favored by the Small-Thompson forces.

Stratton May Resign?

It was reported from Springfield yesterday that unless Stratton withdraws from the race by Saturday or quits his state job, Gov. Small will ask him for his resignation.

Lake County Milk Producers to Meet At Antioch March 3

The Lake County milk producers association has issued a call to all producers of the county to attend a mass meeting at the Crystal theatre, Antioch, Saturday, March 3, at 1:30 p. m.

Good speakers will be present to address the meeting. A good attendance at this county meeting will do much to further the interests of producers who are making a fight for a price of $3.00 per hundred for their product. Tell your farmer friends to attend the big meeting at Antioch March 3.

Bertha James Carrell To Sing For Home Folks

Mrs. Bertha James Carrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. James, who has won fame singing on the chautauqua platform, will come to Antioch on Tuesday, February 28, to sing for the home-folks. Since entering upon her musical career Mrs. Carrell has toured extensively, appearing before large audiences in 40 of the 48 states. Her repertoire will include several numbers we all love to hear as well as a selection of classical music. Mrs. William Ziegler will accompany Mrs. Carrell at the pipe organ adding further touch to the home-coming.

As a personal favor to Mrs. Carrell, the world famous Henri Kublick, violinist who has crossed the Atlantic no less than 20 times to play before the nobility of the old world, will attend. During the course of the program he will offer his specialty trio airings, playing the violin, banjo and zither at the same time, an unexcelled feat.

Under ordinary circumstances, Antioch could not afford such a high class program as will be presented on the 28th. It is only through the courtesy to the Ladies Aid of the Methodist Church, under whose auspices the concert will be given, is it possible. In appreciation to Mrs. Carrell and her famous guest, it is hoped that all Antioch will respond to the invitation to attend. Tickets are fifty cents and can be had from any of the members as well as at the door of the church.

CARLSTROM QUILTS RACE; GIVES WAY TO LOUIS L. EMMERSON

Atty. Gen. Withdraws From Race for Gov.; Seeks Re-election to Post

History was made in Illinois Republicanism Saturday and the stage is being set for the state's greatest political battle.

Changes in the political horizon late Saturday came with the announcement that Oscar E. Carlstrom had withdrawn from the race for the governorship, announcing himself a candidate for re-nomination for the attorney generalship, and the entry of Otis F. Glenn as a candidate for United States senator against Frank L. Smith.

The two announcements brought out a complete slate of state candidates on the Lowden-Densen-Emmerson ticket that will oppose the Small-Thompson—Small combination on April 10.

"I am relinquishing my candidacy for governor of the state of Illinois, even after months of hard and wearisome work, because the interests of the state of Illinois and its good people are far greater than the interests of any individual no matter who he may be," Attorney General Carlstrom said in a statement announcing his decision to retire from the race for the governorship leaving Louis Emmerson as the sole opponent to Len Small and the kind of politics he represents.

"My personal ambitions cannot be permitted to stand against the welfare of Illinois. Either Mr. Emmerson or I running alone against Small can defeat him. Both of us running, however, would insure his re-election."

"Mr. Emmerson is an older man than I and I can afford to wait until some later time; and above all things I want to do my part as a citizen of Illinois, loyal to her best interests to save my state from continued shame and disgrace before the nation."

An Appeal to Citizens

"I want my resignation as a candidate for governor at this time to be the clarion call to the citizenry of Illinois and to every loyal friend of mine among them to rally to the fight for the fair name of Illinois by nominating Louis L. Emmerson overwhelmingly. With the battle lines thus drawn, let us see to a full regulation."

FRANK HAHN IS INJURED WHEN TRAIN STRIKES TRUCK

Freight Engine Wrecked in Auto Collision Near Libertyville.

An E. J. & E. freight engine was wrecked Monday afternoon in a collision with a 14 ton milk truck and trailer owned by the Welland Dairy Co., of Chicago, at the "J" crossing three miles south of Libertyville, on Milwaukee avenue.

Frank Hahn of Trevor, driver of the huge milk truck and trailer, received cuts on the head, but otherwise was uninjured.

The engine struck the milk conveyor in the center, hurling the trailer to the north side of the tracks and the truck to the south side of the right-of-way. The impact of the collision flattened the front of the heavy freight engine which was unable to proceed under its own power.

The engine tore a huge hole in the side of the 800-gallon tank on the trailer and the contents spilled over the ground. The tank on the truck chassis was not punctured and the milk was saved.

Hahn, the driver, was enroute to Chicago from Salem, Wis., on his regular daily trip. The accident happened shortly after noon.

Posters by School Children Will Depict the Ideal Home

That the home makers of the future may take an early interest in their future responsibilities, the school children of Illinois will be asked to participate in the state-wide better homes campaign now being carried on by the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Walter W. Seymour, president announced today. The children will take part in the campaign through an art-poster contest to be conducted throughout the state, under the direction of the federation's well-equipped home committee. Mrs. Constant Church Hopkins is chairman of the Department of The American Home.

The posters are to depict the ideal home, either interior or exterior, and may be submitted by seventh and eighth grade and first year high school students, of both public and private schools.

Twenty-five district prizes will be given. The best five posters in each district will be sent to federation headquarters and exhibited at the state convention of women's clubs in Chicago in May. Three trophies will be awarded to the winners of the state contest.

Posters must be the original work of the pupil and will be judged on general neatness, artistic handling and mechanical treatment and the idea conveyed.

Building Destroyed By Fire Monday to Be Reconstructed

LOSS EXCEEDS $30,000

Workmen Are Warned of Danger a Second Before Smoke Explosion.

BULLETIN

A new and better factory building for the Corona Pen Company will be constructed at once to replace the one almost completely wrecked by fire here Monday afternoon, according to Walter R. Borman, vice president and general manager, who has architect's plans and has already received many bids on the reconstruction work. The contract will be let just as soon as settlement is made with the insurance company. It was announced today.

The factory building of the Corona Pen Company is a mass of ruins following a disastrous fire Monday. The fire, originating in the buffing room or stock-curing room, shortly after one o'clock quickly spread to other parts of the building where the smoke and fumes from the burning stock burst into flame, causing an explosion that rocked and partially wrecked the west half of the building. The loss is estimated conservatively at $30,000, although it has been impossible for factory officials to fix the exact amount of damage until a checkup is made. Although the walls on the east part of the building are standing, the entire building was gutted by the flames.

Cause Not Known

Spontaneous combustion or a spark from electrical apparatus are given as possible causes of the fire. Temperature in the stock curing room, which is enclosed within the buffing room, is operated by electricity with thermostat control, and it is thought something may have gone wrong here.

Warned by Superintendent.

Serious injury or perhaps loss of life was prevented by the factory superintendent, Walter Baker, who shouted a warning to the half dozen workers in the factory room when he noticed smoke issuing from the buffing room and sensed what was coming. They were not a second too soon, for scarcely had they passed the door when there was an explosion in the smoke-filled room and the interior of the factory was a roaring furnace of flame. Miss Rosling, stenographer, was hurled to the floor by the force of the blast but escaped uninjured.

Fire Department Fast.

Just before the fire had issued into the main factory room the fire department had been called and the volunteers arrived in a remarkably short time. With two lines of hose playing on the flames and battling a strong west wind the volunteers worked for hours before the flames were subdued. For a while the situation was critical.

SEEK FIRE-BUG IN CAFE BLAZE

Conviction on the part of Fire Chief Sara O'Farrell of Waukegan that the fire which attacked the restaurant of Camillo Morone, 820 Tenth street, at 2:30 o'clock Monday morning, was of incendiary origin, caused him to report the matter to the State Fire Marshall's office. Paul E. Bertram, deputy state fire marshal, arrived on the scene Tuesday afternoon and launched a searching inquiry into all the facts in the case. He was still working on the case yesterday.

Legion Has Fine Meet at Great Lakes

At the last meeting of the Eighth District, American Legion, held at Great Lakes, Illinois, the principal speaker was James Sykora of Batavia, Ill., the present Commander of the Second Division and one of the runners-up for State Commander at the Joliet Convention.

Sykora is a quiet, confident, self-contained chap, and a very eloquent speaker, who held his auditors spell-bound from the start to the finish of his talk. Although living in Batavia, a considerable distance from Great Lakes, he journeyed that great distance through a blinding snow storm to make good on his promise to the District Commander, Edw. J. McGeogh.

"One of the finest things in the world is comradeship," said Sykora, "and that is best exemplified in the American Legion where rank is relegated to the background, where creed, nationality, or color does not matter, the only test being service in the World War. Condition of service ashore or afloat, abroad or at home, carries no distinction nor difference, service is the thing that counts. It is inevitable that four million and a half men serving in the greatest war of the ages should not form ties of friendship and comradeship and learn to be of service to their country and to their less fortunate comrades."

Sykora used as an illustration a quotation from service to illustrate his point on membership. "For the strength of the pack is the wolf and the strength of the wolf is the pack," meaning that the strength of the Legion was its members and the strength of the members was the Legion. Members should be obtained at all times from all places and large membership totals rolled up, for while the Legion is doing wonderful work in rehabilitation and service, the surface has hardly been scratched, and with the toll that the years to come will bring, members and more members must be obtained to carry on the good work.

The naval observatory says that the smallest of the major planets is Mercury; diameter about 3,000 miles. Of the minor planets or asteroids, some are so small that it is impossible to measure their diameters. It is estimated that the smallest are less than 10 miles in diameter.

POULTRY CHICKS CAN'T LIVE WITH COCCIDIOSIS

Coccidiosis is one of the most destructive of all young chick diseases, and if the disease has once gained headway to the flock the chicks must die. The disease may be prevented next year by disinfecting the brooder house and rearing the chicks away from the older fowls.

The symptoms of this disease, according to Dr. Leonard W. Kloss of the college of veterinary medicine at Ohio State university are loss of appetite; the young birds sit around with drooping wings, eyes closed, and it sometimes may be noted that the droppings are streaked with blood.

"On opening the chicks," the doctor writes, "it is observed that there is considerable inflammation of the intestines, some just back of the gizzard, but the most inflammation is found in the ceca or blind gut. Hemorrhages occur to these parts, and they may be well distended with blood, or in the more advanced stages the blood may be washed out, leaving a cheesy-like mass."

"In this mass are the encysted which are the cause of the disease and are passed out in the droppings."

The best method of curing the disease is to prevent it, so sterilize the brooder house before the chicks are again put into it, using strong concentrated lye, which will dissolve the organisms, and move the house to a clean, fresh sod away from the other fowls."

Mites Are Different in Habits From Lice

Mites are entirely different in habits and modes of living than lice, and different methods must be employed to destroy them. Both reduce the vitality of the fowl to such an extent that they easily succumb to disease, writes Michael K. Boyer in the Farm and Ranch.

The house is a very small insect that cannot suck blood. It lives on the body of the fowl, feeds on filth, dried blood scales from the feathers, and scurf of the skin. It breathes through the pores in the sides of the body.

Lice are killed by suffocation, consequently, insect powder or even dust will destroy them.

The mite belongs to the spider family, and attacks fowls by sucking the blood. The house does its damage by biting.

Mites have eight legs, the have six. The former live in cracks and crevices of the building, and visit the fowls only at night.

Turkeys on Farm Means an Additional Revenue

Turkeys on every farm will mean additional revenue for the many necessities needed on the farm. An increased production will not lower prices, for during the past three years in all of the large cities, campaigns have been put on by the leading produce men urging the consumption of turkeys during the entire winter season and not just a holiday feast. The success of this campaign last season shows that people are anxious to eat turkey any time, for on August 1 there was less than two and one-half million pounds of turkey in storage. Most of this will be consumed before the 1927 crop is sent to market. With the same demands of last season turkeys should bring an exceptionally high market price this fall and winter.

Use your cold tea for watering plants. Another way to freshen up ferns is to put one teaspoonful of ammonia into a quart of water when watering them.

Tax Measure Loses at Special Session

Larger municipalities of the downstate, including Springfield, Peoria, East St. Louis, Elgin, together with many in Cook county which favor higher bonding power were defeated in the state senate on the first day of the reconvening of the special session of the general assembly when a bill giving them authority to issue bonds up to five per cent failed. It received only 14 votes while 13 were cast in opposition. Several members declined to vote.

The defeat of the bill was also a setback to school districts of the state which are bonded to their legal limit and which had planned the construction of additional buildings.

The fight is not over, supporters of the measure declared. There is a bill pending in the house, which has been approved by the senate, fixing the bonding power of downstate municipalities at two and one-half per cent. Indications are that heavy guns will be turned on it when it is called on its passage and, if it should also be defeated, the bonding power of all municipalities of Illinois would be five per cent, the same as Chicago.

Bonding legislation was made necessary by the special session because of a decision of the state supreme court knocking out an amendment limiting the downstate bonding power to two and one-half per cent and giving Chicago five per cent.

Following the defeat on the bonding bill, the senate considered an amendment to the election law, but action was postponed.

Chicago was expected to make its formal demand for an amendment to the primary election law providing the election of ward instead of precinct committeemen in Chicago. Under the plan the downstate will continue to elect in precincts. The amendment will be backed on to senate bill No. 40 which has now passed its second reading. Indications are that the amendment will be the cause of disturbance and some doubt the ability of supporters to secure 102 votes when the bill is called on its passage.

Purse Grabber Meets Defeat on Banana Peel

New York.—Fruit caused man's downfall when Adam fell for an apple. Fruit's latest victim is Morris Weissman, who fell for a banana skin.

Weissman, forty-five, of Brooklyn, saw Mrs. Lora Kallman inspecting a window display in Grand street. He also saw her purse, containing $40.58 peeking from her coat pocket. He lifted the purse, according to the police. She seized him. He knocked her down and ran. Scores of women joined in the chase.

A block on his way, Weissman was going strong when his foot encountered a banana skin—and he skidded. Plump on his shoulder blades landed Weissman. Plump on his stomach landed several women.

Patrolman John Coulter dashed up and rescued Weissman, then turned him over to an ambulance. He was found to have 29 scratches and seven convictions for picking pockets. This makes him eligible for life membership in Sing Sing under the Hennessey habitual criminal law. Magistrate Folwell in Bridge Plaza court held him for examination.

Supervisors Can Not Serve as Jurors, Carlstrom Says

Selection of members of boards of supervisors to serve on grand juries would be "clearly against public policy," Attorney General Oscar E. Carlstrom has informed the state's attorney at Sycamore.

This was in reply to a query from the state's attorney, asking if the board might legally select a supervisor to serve on a grand jury.

"I do not think that the statute contemplates that the board shall select one of its own members as a grand juror," the attorney general said. "If that could be done, then the board would have authority to select twenty-three of its members to serve. I am unable to find a decision bearing on this question, but I am of the opinion that it would be clearly against public policy."

Union Free High School

After suffering a disastrous defeat at Union Grove on Monday night, the high school basketball team returned to the home floor to defeat the strong Kenosha Vocational team on Friday night, 24-22. The game during the first half was all in favor of the visitors, they leading by a score of 11-4 at one time. But in the second half the local boys staged a remarkable comeback and took the lead never to lose it. Chet Runyard caged five baskets, four from long range.

A New Year Decision

by Nathaniel
Edelman

IT WAS to be a wonderful New Year for the Feltons. At least, it would be for Blanche Felton, but Raymond Felton, her husband, was not quite so sure about the matter, although he never breathed his doubts to a soul. Their new residence on Allan street was all finished and they were to move in before the New Year.

Blanche was excited beyond measure; she would have the finest home of all her friends; for the new house, planned to be a rather moderate home in the beginning, had somehow developed into a rather pretentious structure. That this had been all due to her, Blanche had never stopped to think, and Raymond, easy-going and adoring Blanche as he did, never told her. He wanted her to be happy and this had really been the first thing he had ever seen Blanche so set upon; up to now she had always been very moderate in her demands. And she deserved a fine home, if ever a woman did!

But Raymond Felton was worried. He confessed to himself that he could not figure out exactly how they were going to keep the place up. He must try and make some extra money in the next year. But how? he asked himself.

At home Blanche was singing loudly as she went about her work. It was two days after Christmas and she was packing all the little odds and ends about the house preparatory to the big move. A loud ring at the doorbell brought her downstairs. Outside stood a man and woman, strangers to Blanche. They stated their mission as soon as they entered. Somebody had told them about the new house on Allan street and they wondered if there was a possibility that it was for sale. Mr. Gray was coming to town as manager of the big Delmar company, and as they had quite a family they needed a large home and were willing to pay a good price. They had already looked all over town and could find nothing to suit their needs.

Blanche told them that the house was not for sale; that they had built it for their own home, and that there was nothing like it in town. She talked at such length and aroused their interest in so many of its new features that Mr. Gray asked her if he might take a look at the plans. Flattered by his interest, Blanche said she would get them. She remembered that Raymond had put them away a few days ago, saying that he was putting them with all the papers. Blanche guessed that he had put them somewhere in his big desk and she was right in this surmise. They were enclosed in a huge envelope with a host of other papers, some of which fell out when she drew out the plans. Stopping to pick up the scattered papers, she looked hastily at the first one and her face flushed as she read. It was an almost rude demand that a certain bill for material be paid immediately. Picking up another one, she was shocked to see that it was almost of the same type. The third paper was in Raymond's writing, and though Blanche knew little of business she could see that he had been trying to figure out ways and means to make his income do the impossible. Then understanding dawned upon her, and with it an added rush of love for the man who had been willing to do so much for her. "Poor, dear Raymond," she whispered, "how selfish and blind I have been."

Mr. Gray was charmed with the plans and again asked if there was any chance that they might change their mind. This time Blanche said she would think it over and asked them to call that evening and talk with her husband. Before their coming, however, Blanche herself talked it over with Raymond and told him that she was not so keen about the house after all—that it would entail too much work and too much worry—and that instead they would fix up their own cozy little place a bit and buy some of the things they both wanted.

Raymond entered into the New Year minus the load of worry he had been carrying and Blanche and he were very happy in their old home, and, woman-like, she was proud of the neat profit they had made in selling the new house over which she had taken such pains.

OXYGEN IS VITAL TO 'WORKING COW'

Good Supply of Fresh Air at All Times Essential to Production.

A dairy cow producing milk needs 820 three-gallon pailfuls of air every hour, reports the Blue Valley Creamery Institute. The spongy sacks which form the cow's lungs are equal to the area of a city lot 50x170 feet, and to keep this mass of tissue functioning normally requires about 3,000 cubic feet of fresh, clean air each hour.

In making these facts known the Institute stresses upon farmers the great importance of making available to their dairy herds a good supply of pure, fresh air at all times. This is especially to be remembered during the 200 to 240 days out of every year which the average dairy cow spends in the stable.

A dairy cow needs the oxygen in the air to purify her blood, and to digest and assimilate her feed and turn it into heat, body repairing material and milk, says the Institute. Without air, a cow would die. With little air her body cannot function properly. With plenty of air her bodily mechanism can run normally. Milking cows constantly need a full ration of fresh air to maintain health and produce milk abundantly. Well ventilated barns, arranged so as to throw off the used, foul air and supply clean, fresh air are necessary for most profitable results during the stabling period which normally comprises two-thirds of the year throughout the Mississippi valley.

The oxygen in fresh air makes it possible for the lungs to freshen the blood, which in turn handles the material that goes to make milk for milk is made from the blood stream. A cow on a half-ration of fresh air can not "operate" at her best nor can she produce all the milk she is capable of producing on a half-ration of feed. Milk is merely a combination of sunshine, fresh air, grass, hay, grains, green roughage and water. The modern dairy cow is merely a living, breathing, highly organized creature entirely dependent upon man for the amount and quality of her sustenance—even to her daily supply of air when she is stabled—and man, in turn, is dependent upon her for the food products upon which have been built the nations which have achieved the highest type of civilization.

Wanderer's Jail Term Makes Record Perfect

New York.—A perfect record was attained by "Mike" Luscovitch, thirty-nine-year-old follower of the open road, with the assistance of Magistrate Douras in Morrisania court. "Mike" was charged with vagrancy.

After telling the court that his home was in the forty-eight states of the Union and that he could not remember where or when he last worked, "Mike" said he had been arrested in every state but New York. He seemed crestfallen that his record was not complete. Magistrate Douras said:

"We have some nice jails here. I'll give you six months in the work-house."

"Mike" replied: "I'm used to it, judge."

Dazed by Inheritance, Killed by Motor Car

Shanghai.—All of his life Wong-Ling worked hard as a wharf coolie in Canton. Recently there came wonderful news. A relative had died in Shanghai. Wong had inherited unheard-of wealth—more than $1,000.

Fortune dazed him to smile on Wong but fate took a hand in the game. All matters pertaining to the inheritance were settled a few days later at the Provisional court. That same day the blissful Wong was to receive the money that spelled a life of ease for him and his large family.

Outside the Provisional court, Wong, in a daze, walked into the path of a motor car driven by Alex Moskowitch, a Russian. At St. Luke's hospital an hour later he died from a fractured skull and internal injuries.

Gasoline Tax Nets State $6,200,000

Illinois has collected approximately $6,250,000 under the provisions of the two-cent gasoline tax, the validity of which is pending before the state supreme court. A decision is expected at the end of the present term, which probably will be February 22.

Of the total amount collected $50,000 is claimed as refunds, leaving a balance of $6,200,000, one-half of which is to be credited to the counties of the state for road construction. The collection of the gas tax has been done without additional expense to the state, according to those in charge of the work.

Cook county paid in more than $5,000,000 in automobile taxes last year and, as the distribution to counties is made on the basis of money paid by automobile licensees, Cook county will receive approximately two-fifths of the total.

Moist Mash Excellent for the Tardy Pullets

As soon as pullets are bodily matured they should start laying. Fully matured pullets that are not laying may often be brought into production at this time by using a moist mash. The usual laying mash may be moistened with sour skim milk, buttermilk, reml-solid buttermilk and water, dried buttermilk and water, or water fed regularly at noon or some other convenient time. It must be fed at the same time each day and should be crumbly moist, not sloppy. Let the pullets consume all they can in twenty minutes and then take the mash away and thoroughly clean the trough. As soon as production reaches a satisfactory point, the moist mash may be discontinued.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"MIND" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, February 19.

The Golden Text was from II Cor. 13: 11. "Be perfect, be of good comfort, be of one mind live in peace; and the God of love and peace shall be with you."

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service. And be not conformed to this world; but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God" (Romans 12: 1, 2).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Mankind will improve through Science and Christianity. The necessity for uplifting the race is father to the fact that Mind can do it; for Mind can impart purity instead of impurity, strength instead of weakness, and health instead of disease" (p. 371).

LOCAL FARMERS BUY CAR ROCK PHOSPHATE

Fifty Ton Car Shipped Here From Tennessee Recently.

After making a thorough study of the soils in this vicinity, the Department of Agriculture of the Antioch Township High School decided that what this community needed in the way of fertilizers, was the element phosphorus, and it was one of the aims of its director, C. L. Kutil, to have at least a 30-ton car brought here. When the local farmers ordered 50 tons, however, it showed that they have realized the necessity of phosphorus for some time, but needed the cooperation to get together on a carload. The order was a club order shipped to the Antioch Township High School Agricultural club which advanced the price of the carload and freight.

At the George White farm phosphorus has tripled the yield of wheat as compared to wheat receiving no treatment.

People who clubbed together to purchase rock phosphate are as follows: Henry Herman, Walter Hill, Henry Messing, Irving Paddock, Geo. White, Henry Grimm, Carl Hughes, O. Neahous, John Nielsen and J. E. Brook, Harold Sheen, Jasper McCormick, Bert Edwards, Frank Kennedy, Harry Tillotson, Nels Nielsen, Swan Christensen, S. E. Pollock, August Wink, C. L. Craft and Hawkins, and the High School.

The rock phosphate or tri-calcium phosphate as it is called, is applied at the rate of one-half ton per acre, at which rate it would show its influence on the crops for a good many years.

The Agricultural department at the High School has announced an end gate rock phosphate spreader that can be rented out to farmers who desire to use it.

It would be better to apply the phosphate on the plowed ground as soon as possible. Winter weather helps to break it up and make it available for plant food.

Tax Paid by Smokers

The internal revenue taxes collected in North Carolina are very large because taxes on tobacco are collected at the factories rather than from retailers. Since the price of the revenue stamps is eventually paid by the smoker of the tobacco, people all over the world contribute to the internal revenue receipts of North Carolina.

LADIES AID MEMBERS ARE GUESTS AT LAKE VILLA

Eleven ladies of the Antioch Methodist Ladies Aid society accepted the invitation of the Lake Villa Ladies Aid to be present at the Washington's birthday luncheon served at the church Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Watson gave a reading and Mrs. Garland sang a solo, accompanied by Mrs. Ziegler.

SIXTY ATTEND WOMAN'S CLUB MEETING

Over sixty were in attendance at the guest day meeting of the Antioch Woman's club at the home of Mrs. G. W. Jensen Monday afternoon. Mrs. Grimm and Mrs. Jensen were hostesses. Fourteen tables of five hundred were in play. Proceeds from the party are to be turned over to the Park Ridge school for orphans.

LADIES AID DINNER WAS SUCCESS

The Lincoln-Washington dinner served Tuesday evening at the Methodist church by the Ladies Aid society was one of the most successful affairs of the kind ever held at the church. Re-arrangement of the kitchen and the addition of new equipment was found to be a great convenience by the ladies of the dinner committee.

For Turkey Fattening Ration Use Much Grain

The North Dakota experiment station gives a good home mixed turkey ration which consists of 100 pounds ground barley, 100 pounds ground oats, 100 pounds ground wheat and 50 pounds of meat scraps. If this ration is kept before the turkeys in a self-feeder at all times with a feeding of grain at night, it will do much toward increasing the returns at market time. Milk makes a fine food, and if not available, meat scraps, tankage or dried buttermilk are fine protein foods. The animal protein fits in best with other feeds at the rate of 15 per cent to 25 per cent of ground feeds.

Cull Flock Closely

Culling the flock closely will not only save feed and labor, but it will also help to remove crowded conditions that often prevail on account of the growing young flock. The disposal of cockerels is often advisable for a similar reason. It is better to keep a small flock of birds that pay their way than to keep a large flock in which there are a lot of drones that eat up the profit made by good birds. Birds that should be culled are sure to show a loss in the future.

Laying Supplements

The best supplement to any ration is direct sunlight and green feed, according to tests conducted by the Ohio experiment station. Successful feeding for egg production depended largely upon the use during late fall and winter of alfalfa, clover, soy bean hay and cod liver oil as supplements. Grains and their by-products and packing house by-products do not usually make a complete ration. The legume hay improved the hatchability of eggs.

Big Advantage to Have Youngsters Roost Early

Early roosting does not cause crooked breast bones, as was formerly thought by many. This is caused by poor bone development due to a deficiency in those elements that are necessary for strong bones. A proper mineral supply, plenty of direct sunlight, or the use of cod liver oil will prevent this condition.

It is to the poultry keeper's advantage to get young stock to roost as early as possible, for if they do not get this habit, it is difficult to teach them when they are put in the laying house. The use of small roosts in the brooder house when chicks are only four or five weeks old will help to start this habit early. These roosts can be hinged to the walls of the brooder house about a foot from the floor. They may be raised during the day to give the chicks full benefit of the floor space, and lowered to the floor in the evening. By having these roosts on all sides of the house, there will be sufficient room for the chicks to spread out and they will all be equal-distant from the brooder stove, providing the stove is in the center of the house.

Methodist Church Notes

Another wonderful Lenten service of music will be offered at the Methodist Church next Sunday. The morning worship will include the singing by the adult choir, now increased to sixteen voices, which by the way are the best in many a year. The sermon theme is, "The Secret of Eternal Wisdom."

Mrs. Gladys Tufft Young, graduate of the Iowa State University School of Music, will render several selections on the organ during the evening service. The program will include several other instrumental selections as well as several of the old favorite hymns sung by the congregation. The preaching service will terminate a profitable day. The adult intermediate class is meeting with success. Any one wishing to have a deeper appreciation of the Gospel of St. John will be interested in the class. You'll find a ready welcome. Rev. Kral is the teacher.

Advantage of Ignorance

The ignorant have one great advantage over those who know; they can be certain. Certainly decreases at the same rate as knowledge grows. Our ancestors, who knew little about the past, could feel certain that the little they did know was all that was worth knowing. Today we know, comparatively, a great deal about the past. We are, in consequence, much more tolerant, much less cocksure than our fathers.—Aldous Huxley in Vanity Fair Magazine.

Unite For Battle On Small; Carlstrom Gives Way to L. L. Emmerson

tration and outpouring of votes on April 10 such as the state never before has seen.

"I want to thank my friends who have so loyally stood by me thus far. They know, particularly my comrades of the Spanish American and the world war, that it is through no lack of courage that I withdraw, but solely from a devotion to my state based upon patriotism, and, knowing that, I appeal to them to carry on in this fight.

Decency Should Be Upheld.

"I was fighting solely to drive Small and Smallism with all the rottenness it means out of the civic and political life of Illinois. I have said repeatedly in my campaign speeches that it was not important what happened to me as an individual, but it was tremendously important that principles of decency were supported and upheld.

"I would like to continue to have a part in the administration of the affairs of my state and therefore will file for renomination as the Republican candidate for attorney general in the April primaries.

"I have tried my best to serve the people honestly and faithfully in that office and hope they will renominate me."

Candidate Makes Statement.

"I want my friends to support Attorney General Carlstrom just as loyally and as actively as they have supported me," was the comment of Secretary Emmerson when he heard the reading of Carlstrom's announcement.

"We and the rest of our ticket are going to stand together and fight every inch of the way. We are as strongly for Mr. Glenn and our other associates as we are for each other. With all due modesty, we believe we have a remarkably strong ticket and we'll win."

Emmerson State's Best Vote Getter. Chicago, Illinois, Feb. 23—In a letter sent to Republican party workers throughout the state today, Rodney H. Brandon, chairman of the Emmerson-for-Governor State Campaign Committee asks support for "a candidate for Governor who will add strength to the ticket and help it win in every county in the state."

"The best way to judge what a candidate can do is to review his past record," Mr. Brandon said.

"In the general election in 1924, Governor Len Small was a candidate for re-election and so was Secretary of State Louis L. Emmerson. How did these two men, who are now opposing each other for the Republican nomination for Governor, stack up as vote getters?"

"Governor Small as head of the State ticket ran 531,318 votes behind President Coolidge's Illinois plurality and many thousands of voters behind him every candidate on the ticket.

Given Greatest Vote

"Mr. Emmerson was given the greatest vote ever obtained by any candidate for any office in Illinois. His plurality was 47,010 above that of President Coolidge and 578,328 greater than that of Governor Small. In Cook county Emmerson's plurality exceeded Small's by 283,198 and in the down-state by 295,130.

"Governor Small lost eight of the down-state senatorial districts. Mr. Emmerson carried every down-state senatorial district by substantial majorities, piling up a plurality 6,988 greater than Small in the Governor's own district.

"Mr. Small carried 70 of the 102 counties, while Mr. Emmerson carried 91 of them.

"These figures speak for themselves. As a vote getter, Louis L. Emmerson never has had an equal in this State. Republicans have nothing to fear next November with him as the head of the ticket."

Anti-Small Slate Announced. Others stated as candidates on the anti-Small ticket have been announced as follows:

President—Frank O. Lowden.
U. S. senator—Otis F. Glenn.
Governor—Louis L. Emmerson.
Lieutenant-governor—John G. Oglesby or Fred E. Sterling.
Attorney-general—Oscar E. Carlstrom.
State treasurer—Omer N. Custer.
Secretary of state—Wm. J. Stratton or Charles W. Vall.
State auditor—Oscar Nelson.

Sentimental Power

Sentiment is about the most powerful thing in the world. Timber experts say it is poor policy to teach children to plant a tree on Arbor day and let them put a tree in the house on Christmas day. True enough—reforestation and Christmas don't work well together. But so long as there is still sweetness and love light in the human heart Christmas will win. There are some things that rise above all practical consideration.—Mobile Register.

Lucky to Dream of Rose

Dreams indeed say that nothing can be more favorable than to dream of a rose, as this means long life and prosperity, and to a lover that he will wed his true love.

Aged Resident of County Passes Away

Mrs. Clara R. Olcott, a former resident of Antioch, died at her home, 345 North Avenue, Waukegan, Sunday morning, February 19, 1928, at the age of 75 years, 9 months, and 18 days.

She had been in poor health for the past five years. She was born April 30, 1852, at Belmanton, Clinton county, New York, and came to Antioch township with her parents about 1864 and lived in this vicinity until 1908 when she moved with her family to the location where she passed away.

On November 1, 1869, she was united in marriage to Marvin Devine Olcott. She is survived by four children: James Henry, Oren Ellsworth, George Marvin, all of Waukegan, and Mrs. Alma Edith Sherwood, of Lake Forest. Also twenty-four grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Three sisters, Mrs. Leavina Jones of Sandwich, Ill., Mrs. Leavina Atwell of Lake Villa, Ill., and Mrs. Alma LaPlant of Antioch, Ill., also two brothers: Oscar Savage, Kenosha, Wis., Herbert Savage of Sandwich, Ill. Her husband and two children preceded her in death. Mr. Olcott died February 4, 1916. A daughter, Mrs. Laura Slack, died December 30, 1919. Another child died in infancy.

Mrs. Olcott was a faithful member of the First Christian Church, The Woman's Relief Corps, Court of Honor Club, and the Union Sons of Veterans Auxiliary.

Funeral services will be held from her late home Thursday at one o'clock with interment in the Antioch Hillside cemetery. Rev. Eugene Beach, of the First Christian Church in Waukegan, will officiate.

The farm where Mr. Frank Harden now lives is the old Olcott home.

Increase Your Poultry Profits

You can positively increase your poultry profits by the use of Cod Liver Oil.

This statement has been absolutely proven by various State Agricultural Experiment Stations, as well as by the leading poultry men throughout the United States and Canada.

It is a well known fact that the wonderful results obtained from feeding Cod Liver Oil to poultry are due to same being so high in Vitamins A and D.

Vitamin A is an absolute necessity in poultry feeding; it sustains growth and builds up resistance against disease.

Vitamin D is a substitute for the ultra-violet rays of sunshine—that is why Cod Liver Oil is sometimes called "Liquid Sunshine." In no food is the Vitamin D so prevalent as in Cod Liver Oil. Vitamin D in the right proportion in your poultry rations will correct leg weakness and similar deficiency diseases.

Any pure Cod Liver Oil will give you good results but to be sure highest satisfaction, be sure to use one that is "tested" and "guaranteed" as to vitamin content.

We have a Poultry Cod Liver Oil that is equal to the finest that can be produced. It is absolutely pure, a light golden color, thoroughly filtered, and mild and sweet in odor and taste and guaranteed to contain 60 Units per Gm. Vitamin A and 250 Units per Gm. Vitamin D.

The use of Poultry Cod Liver Oil promotes health by building sturdy constitutions in both chicks and adult birds enabling them to resist disease and cures, thereby increasing the hatchability of the eggs.

STATE CAPITOL ITEMS

Honor Lincoln's Memory at Capitol

Springfield, the Capital City, joined with Illinois and the rest of the world a few days ago in honoring the memory of Abraham Lincoln, the Prairie State's most renowned citizen. The occasion was the one hundred and nineteenth anniversary of the Great Emancipator's birth.

Born in obscurity, of lowly parentage, of what he was pleased to refer to as common folks, Lincoln was Illinois' greatest citizen, and one of the world's immortals.

Tribute was paid to the Great American in three ceremonies on the day before his birthday in Springfield. The Lincoln Centennial association presented a program in the circuit court of the present Sangamon county court house which was the state house in Lincoln's day. It was in this same room that Lincoln gave utterance to one of his masterpieces of literature, his "house divided against itself" speech, when he was serving in the Illinois legislature. The annual Boy Scout pilgrimage to his tomb was another of the ceremonies, and the annual meeting of the Lincoln Centennial association at the Abraham Lincoln Hotel was the third.

On Lincoln's birthday proper an other observance was held in the state arsenal. Secretary Curtis D. Wilbur of the United States Navy, and Senator Don Alejandro Padilla y Bell, ambassador of Spain to the United States, were the principal speakers.

Another pilgrimage to the tomb of Lincoln which assumed immense proportions before the day was over was the fourth annual visit of the Order of the DeMolay. Some two thousand young men from half a dozen neighboring states were in the city over Lincoln's birthday.

Governor Len Small will send "sacred soil" from spots in Illinois that are revered in memory as scenes of historic events, to nourish a memorial tree the chess of 1928 will plant in the schoolyard at Summertown, Ga.

Among the novel requests that reach the desk of the state's chief executive, Governor Small received this week a letter from DeVaughn Hydrick, superintendent of the Summertown, Georgia, high school, asking that some soil from Illinois be forwarded to use in planting an evergreen, as a memorial of the year 1928.

At the suggestion of Gov. Small, Senator Harry Wilson of Pinckneyville plans to journey to Kaskaskia where George Rogers Clark defended his stronghold, and to Grimsby near where the first public school was organized in Illinois. He will be accompanied by students of Pinckneyville high school who will aid him in securing the "sacred soil" which will be forwarded with the compliments of Governor Small to Summertown, Georgia.

The state division of highways has awarded the contracts for the construction of a stretch of hard road from Route 162 Adams county, to Peter Simon, Quincy for $88,294.81.

Other pavement contracts awarded are as follows:

Route 116, section 109, Woodford county, to Trompeter & Sons, Peru, $79,742.71.

Routes 46 and 27, Carroll county, to J. F. Lee Paving Company, Dubuque, Iowa.

Route 83, section 131, Henry county, to McCarthy Improvement Company, Davenport, Iowa, $258,972.40.

S. B. 566, Perry county, to Lough & Sons, Marion, $96,723.67.

Bids for the construction of approximately 100 miles of hard roads, together with bridge and heavy grading projects, will be received by the state department of public works and buildings on February 29. The stretches of pavement will be a part of Governor Small's road building program of 1000 miles or more in 1928.

Peoria business men in conference with Governor Small a few days ago urged state aid on the Cedar street bridge for which that city recently approved a bond issue of $1,000,000.

The governor said that the matter would be looked into and if the approaches were any part of a state bond issue route, he would be willing to do what he could.

A delegation from southern Illinois urged the construction of highway from Pinney to Percy. The visitors were presented to the governor by Senator Harry Wilson, Pinckneyville and Representatives Waller, Davis and Eisenhart. Another delegation urged construction on route 159 from Cairo to Chester.

Deaths in Illinois, due to food poisoning, each year since 1919, for which tabulation is completed, follows: 1919, 56; 1920, 48; 1921, 31; 1922, 32; 1923, 38; 1924, 37; 1925, 20; 1926, 27.

Food inspections, and the investigations of sanitary conditions throughout the state, resulting in more general obedience to the laws, have consistently increased within the past few years, according to the records of that branch of state government.

Standard Compiles Book of Agricultural Laws

The agricultural laws of Illinois, a comprehensive edition compiled by Stillman J. Standard, director of agriculture, and his assistant, E. D. Turner, is now ready for distribution to interested officials.

The laws and regulations administered by the state department of agriculture, as assembled in this edition, form a 228 page book. With the laws, there also appears an index giving the chapters and sections of the 1927 revised Smith-Hurd statutes, in which 55 miscellaneous agricultural laws are found.

Regulations, promulgated by the director of Agriculture, governing inspection of county fairs, and other memoranda relative to the regulatory service of this branch of Illinois state government, form a portion of the text.

All county farm advisors, heads of the various divisions of the department of agriculture, members of the agricultural advisory board, and sundry other officials connected with the service of the state through the department of agriculture, receive copies.

"Illinois does not want the earth-adhering to the roots of imported rose bushes," O. T. Olsen, superintendent of plant industry remarks, in submitting to Director Standard of the state department of agriculture his January report of service rendered in the division he heads.

There were 511,700 plants in the shipments of Manetti rose bushes nursery stock received in Illinois during the month, the report reveals. Of these, 24,000 had European soil adhering to the roots. Plant inspection officials say they have no objection to the soil itself, but as some plant diseases may be brought into the state in this manner, a quarantine regulation forbids the entrance of such soil.

In order to guard against insect pests and plant diseases invading nurseries and florists' stocks, the consignees of these 24,000 plants that entered Illinois in violation of the quarantine were required to wash them thoroughly and to treat the roots with live steam.

"If the consumers of coal would insist on clean coal instead of the coal that they so often buy that is 'diluted' by dirt and shale, the smoke nuisance that not only menaces the general public health but makes life in a large city so disagreeable at certain times, would be practically eliminated," D. R. Mitchell, of the mining engineering department of the University of Illinois stated a few days ago.

"Dirt or high ash coal increases the production of smoke and results in the discharge of fine dust from chimney stacks, which settles over the whole community. The question of the elimination of smoke and dust is one that is being given serious consideration throughout the country and certainly is of vital importance to everyone."

Cobwebs festooned from the ceiling may be potent flytraps, but the food inspection forces of the state of Illinois do not approve of them in restaurants. In January 145 "notices in correct" were issued as the result of about 6,000 sanitary inspections.

The January records show that 312 food samples analyzed were pronounced illegal, and that 57,065 pounds of food, unfit for human consumption, and a menace to public health, were confiscated and destroyed.

Indians Had Maple Sugar

The Indians were adept at maple sugar making before the coming of the white man. In fact, the whites learned of maple sugar from the Indians and imitated their process of tapping trees and boiling down the sap. The aborigines of America made both sirup and cake sugar of the most delicious kind. Such sugar was an object of barter among them.—Pathfinder Magazine.

POULTRY

SAVE LEGUME HAY FOR WINTER FEED

Save about six pounds of good legume hay for every bird in your poultry flock for use this winter.

For legume hay, especially if it is leafy and of good quality, makes an excellent winter substitute for the succulent green food hens like so well during the summer. Feeding trials at the Ohio agricultural experiment station, Wooster, have demonstrated the truth of this, according to the experimenters, D. C. Kennard and R. M. Botlike.

Alfalfa, red clover, and soy bean hay appear to be about equally valuable. Regardless of the kind, it is necessary that the hay be made of the immature plant, so as to carry a large proportion of leafy material, especially valuable for chickens.

The hay must be carefully cured without getting wet, the scientists suggest, so that it will hold its bright green color. This insures retention of its valuable water-soluble constituents. Usually the second or third cutting of alfalfa and clover is best. Soy bean hay is best cut when the seeds are just beginning to form in the pods.

Perhaps the best way to feed hay to poultry is to cut it in half-inch lengths. It can then be put into a wire-netting basket feeder and kept before the birds all the time. Uncut hay may be put into feeding racks made of plaster laid placed vertically 2 inches apart. Still another way is to tie the hay in a bundle and suspend it from the ceiling so as to be 5 or 6 inches from the floor.

Famous Spanish Palace

Escorial, or Escorial, is the name of the palace of the King of Spain. It is situated among the hills, 50 miles northwest of Madrid, the Spanish capital. In its wind-swept situation it has an austere appearance. It was built by Philip II, the king who sent the Armada against England, and who cruelly persecuted the people of Holland.

The World a Chessboard

Advises Speed In Factory Rebuilding

C. K. ANDERSON

President of the Corona Pen company, who advised immediate reconstruction of the factory building destroyed by fire Monday. Mr. Anderson is the principal shareholder in the company he re-organized and re-financed last fall when the plant was moved to Antioch from Janesville, Wisconsin.

Fire Company Makes Gallant Effort To Save Carona Factory

Dense smoke within the burning building made it impossible for the volunteers to fight the fire from the inside, and it was a remarkable feat to keep down the flames and prevent the spreading of the fire, which had gained headway in the lumber sheds would have been the most disastrous fire in the history of Antioch. Corona officials and managers of both lumber yards spoke words of praise for the volunteer firemen who tackled a tough job and hours later, wet, ice-covered and half-frozen, they left the scene only after victory was theirs in subduing the flames and preventing the spread of the fire to other property.

Hot coffee and oats were provided from the Harris restaurant for the fighters during the afternoon.
Anderson Will Not Return
C. K. Anderson, president of the Corona Company, was reached by telephone at Tampa, Florida, Monday night, and he recommended that a contract for the rebuilding be let at once. Mr. Anderson had his plans laid made for a trip to the islands and stated he would not return to Antioch at this time.

Thursday Edgar M. Newman, supervising architect for the original building, began work on plans for the reconstruction. The work of salvaging also began Tuesday. Machinery was moved to the house just north of the factory where it will be given an oil bath to prevent rust. Office furniture was removed to the Antioch Lumber and Coal Co. office and to the Adams Co. office, where the Corona will have their temporary headquarters.
In the new building the stock-cur-lum room will be a separate unit, so that inflammable material will not be near the manufacturing department.

New Designs Destroyed

"The work of many months has been destroyed," Walter Baker, factory superintendent, said, explaining that the plant was operating mainly on experimental work, and that all the new designs and models had been lost. Just Monday a new ship-

ANTIOCH WINS DOUBLE VICTORY

Wauconda High School Teams Are Defeated Here Friday.

Mark up two more in the victory column for Antioch. Wauconda's first and second teams went down to defeat before the local high basket team here last Friday night, the lightweights winning 18 to 12, and ment of stock for experimental work had been received.

Came From Janesville.

Reorganized by Chas. K. Anderson and re-financed mainly by Antioch wouldn't let them. Antioch was capital, the Corona Pen company was moved here from Janesville, Wisconsin, last fall. The building, which was made as nearly fire-proof as possible, was ready for occupancy last October.

New officials took charge of the management and production at the factory on February 1. Mr. Walter R. Hornum, late of the Parker Pen company of Janesville, becoming vice president and general manager, and Mr. Walter J. Baker, of the Wahl Co. of Chicago, was placed in charge of production. With new models developed the plant was just about ready to start operating on a manufacturing basis producing Corona pens in quantity, when the disaster of Monday stopped everything.

Fast Work on Reconstruction
Reconstruction work is to go ahead at once, and it's something to the credit of factory officials to have architect's plans completed and be ready for bids on reconstruction within thirty-six hours after the plant was destroyed.

the heavies finishing the main event on the long end of a 33 to 13 score. Wauconda gained a two point advantage at the start and then they decided to stall but the local boys held to three baskets and four free throws the first half while Wauconda only secured one basket to make the count 10 to 2 at the half.

In the second half the local boys cut loose with a fast offense and ran the score up to 33 by securing 10 baskets and 3 free throws while Wauconda came through with 3 field goals and 5 free throws to bring their total to 13.

The local lightweights had some trouble getting started in their game and were trailing 5 to 4 at the half but came back strong in the second half to win by a 6 point margin. The lightweights had not recovered from their hard game on Wednesday night when they defeated Allendale 15 to 14.

On Tuesday afternoon the local teams went to Waukegan for two return games with the Waukegan Freshmen and the 2nd heavies.

The local lightweights were out-fought and outplayed by the Waukegan Freshmen and had to be content with the small end of a 13 to 9 count. The boys couldn't get going on the large floor and they also had hard luck on what should have been easy baskets.

The local heavies used Waukegan's large floor to an advantage in gaining a 33 to 18 victory over their second heavyweight team.

The first half was a close battle with the locals holding a 10 to 8 advantage at the half. In the second half all of the boys found the range and started hitting from all points to score 11 baskets while Waukegan secured only five to make the final count 33 to 15.
